Website: www.st-johns.n-yorks.sch.uk

It has been another busy couple of weeks since the last newsletter! It was super to see our Yr3 and Yr4 parents in school last week. We hope you enjoyed your time in class and we are very grateful for all the positive comments that you shared with the staff and myself afterwards. We are looking forward to our Grandparent Morning tomorrow! It is lovely to have so many visitors in the school!

On Monday we invited the parents of our House Captains, our Vice House Captains and our Head Boy and Head Girl into assembly. It was a pleasure to award those selected for the roles their badges and to present them in front of their parents and the whole school. As well as taking on these leadership roles, we are also developing their roles as Kindness Ambassadors with more information will be shared with you in the new few weeks regarding this! Next week marks the start of Advent and things in school become even busier with all the PTA events and the performances taking place in school and at church. I really hope that you can join us to make each event a success for the children taking part.

Please keep an eye on the times and dates of the upcoming Christmas events. If you are not sure, then please contact the school office as we do not want you to miss out.

Best wishes

Mr Hope

IMPORTANT INFORMATION MEDICAL/DENTAL APPOINTMENTS

Please be aware that if you need to take your child out of school during the school day for a medical or dental appointment, then the main office needs to see an appointment letter/card or text to mark your child on the register. Without this, your child WILL be marked as unauthorised for the time they are out of school. If you child accrues 10 unauthorised absences then County will be informed and you may be fined.

Egyptian Day

Years 3 and 4 were treated to a brilliant Ancient Egyptian day with a very exciting visitor, Matthew Bellwood. We learnt all about the mummification process and enjoyed a theatrical retelling of an Ancient Egyptian myth. We even made sarcophagus lids out of clay, using skills such as rolling, engraving, building and smoothing. A wonderful day was had by all!

Facts

- Head lice are small, six-legged wingless insects, and feed on when they crawl, lay their eggs and die when fully grown and greyish brown in colour. They are difficult to crush in dry clothes when the head is easily scratched. They vary when causing itching, but this is not always the case, particularly when scratching a mass on the head.
- Head lice cannot fly, jump or swim, and spread by close contact. Lice infest the head, burrow into the hair, but do not bite, but if they have head to head contact, either at school or club, or elsewhere, most commonly affected.
- Head lice feed by biting and sucking blood through the skin of their host. The female louse lays eggs in sacs in to which are very small, clear in colour, and called nit eggs. These are securely placed so that when the nit hatches the scalp will have been infested by the eggs. In the wet hair are often found and may be found further along the hair shaft as the hair grows out. Lice require 14 days to develop fully grown, after which they are capable of reproduction.

- Head lice are not fastidious about hair length or condition. It can hair is short there is no protection, although regular hair washing and combing may assist. There is also an opportunity to detect head lice, and a range of treatment if affected.

Head lice

Lice live on the scalp and hair, usually close to the scalp where they lay their eggs and the lice themselves do not fall from the head. Full grown lice take the opportunity to move from head to head during close contact. You get the head to head contact for about 6 days in the head where they have infested.

Head lice live in the hair follicles and do not move from the scalp. Those lice that leave the head by crawling or falling off are usually the old aged or expiring lice. In their lifetime they lay about 8 eggs and so are able to start a new colony. There is no need to wear or change clothing or bedding that comes into contact with head lice.

Diagram showing the life cycle of the head louse. The female louse lays eggs in the hair. The eggs hatch and the young lice develop into adults. The adult lice lay more eggs and the cycle continues.

If you are at school should head lice or feel you need more advice or need to report, then you should consult your school nurse, health visitor, pharmacist or family doctor.

Detection

hand, are well camouflaged and hide when disturbed by observers. They do not always cause feeding, particularly when recently arrived to the herd. They may also be few in number and a quick observer is unlikely to detect them. The following method of detection is effective:

- Wash the hair using ordinary shampoo, then rinse well and blow-dry to avoid mildew. It is important to dry the hair thoroughly and get it as soon as possible.
- Once the comb reaches back to the hair, while it is dropping, switch to a fine-tooth comb. Take care to level the comb at the base of the hair at the roots and draw down the rest of the hair with these strokes.
- The comb must be the wrong length for the hair to be collected below it, so it must contain one or two segments clipped or double-terminated hairs.
